

Rajiv Ranjan

Leadership and Business coach

"Only those who will risk going too far can possibly find out how far one can go." — T.S. Eliot

Rajiv believes in enabling and facilitating executives and entrepreneurs in leadership positions realise their aspirations, and cover the journey from where they are to where they want to be, by maximizing their potential, both professionally and personally, through coaching and mentoring.

He is a senior professional with more than 40 years of multi-domain, cross-functional experience in the Textile Industry in India. With an ACC credential from International Coach Federation (ICF), Rajiv is an accomplished Leadership and Executive Coach with coaching experience at senior levels.

In his last major industry assignment as ED & CEO at Hindoostan Mills Ltd. (Thackersey group), Mumbai, he successfully led the business by enabling leadership, business and people transformation. He also had the unique opportunity of initiating a coaching culture in the organisation.

Before Hindoostan Mills Ltd., he served in a leadership position as President (Textiles) at Mafatlal Industries Ltd. and was a part of the team responsible for the turnaround of the company's textile business. Prior to this, he honed his cross-functional experience across different domains while serving with various corporate groups.

Rajiv graduated from the Indian Institute of Technology, Delhi with a B. Tech in Textile Engineering and is certified in the coaching process and methodology of the International Coach Federation (www.coachfederation.org).
